

CCGC

CONTINENTAL CONSULTING
GROUP CORPORATION

BO MARLIN
Vice President
Air Force Strategy

abmarlin@brighthouse.com
210.373.4819

Bo Marlin joined Continental Consulting Group Corporation (CCGC) in 2020. His Air Force career spanned 41 years including active-duty commands at the squadron, group and vice wing levels, Director of ISR Capabilities as a Colonel; the Technical Advisor for ISR Capabilities and Integration, Technical Advisor for Military Intelligence Program Resources and Deputy Director of the MASINT, GEOINT, and Special Programs Directorate in OUSD(I) as a member of the Senior Executive Service.

Navigating Your Path to Government Business

Education & Experience Highlights:

CCGC, 2020-Present

Vice President, Air Force Strategy

- Develops and executes aviation and ISR business development strategies for clients, primarily in the Pentagon, Combatant Commands (and air components) and the Air Force Research Laboratory and Life Cycle Management Center (including Program Executive Offices)

Air Force Defense Intelligence Senior Leader, Senior Executive Service, Pentagon, Washington DC 2007-2019

- As the Technical Advisor for ISR Capabilities and Integration, provided technical advice and expertise on ISR sensor development, operational employment, force allocation and resource prioritization for the spectrum of military intelligence programs (with an overall budget of $7 billion and over 30,000 people)
- As the Technical Advisor for Military Intelligence Program Resources, was the Air Force lead for intelligence resource planning, programming and execution; and provided planning, programming and budgeting oversight and guidance for all Air Force Military and National Intelligence Programs
- Served as the Deputy Director, MASINT, GEOINT, and Special Programs in OUSD(I); led OUSD(I) in expanding the Countering Weapons of Mass Destruction mission area; ensured the Defense Intelligence Enterprise strategically aligned intel support with the Secretary of Defense, USD(I), and DNI priorities

US Air Force, Retired, Colonel, 1978-2007

- Commanded the 45th Reconnaissance Squadron; the Medina Regional Security Operations Center(NSA) and the 543rd Intelligence Group; was Vice Commander of the 67th Information Operations Wing; completed active-duty service as the Director of Air Force ISR Capabilities at the Pentagon

Education

- US Air Force Academy, CO, 1978, Bachelor of Science in Engineering Mechanics
- Columbia University, NY, 1979, Master of Science in Metallurgical Engineering
- Air War College, AL, 2001, Master's Degree in Strategic Studies